Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 14 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Friday will be cold but mostly dry.

This Evening and Tonight:
Rain, sleet and snow should clear all but the Pennines quite early this evening. Cloud will begin to clear in the east leading to a risk of icy stretches, severe frost and fog later. Bitterly cold. Minimum temperature -6 deg C (21 deg F).

Friday:
Another cold day but most parts will stay dry with patchy cloud and some sunny spells after a sharp early frost. Cloud will thicken as winds begin to strengthen later. Maximum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Windy with rain and snow on Saturday, this possibly significant. Dry, bright, but cold on Sunday. Dry initially but rain, snow and strong winds developing later on Monday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.